

Zips and Velcro for screens

Flexible access without losing full protection

Zips and Velcro can be used to turn your screens into proper doorways — not just fixed panels.

Open them up when you want airflow or easy access. Drop them back down when you want full protection again. The doorway section rolls up easily and secures above with straps and snap buckles, keeping everything clean, tidy, and out of the way.

No loose material. No awkward handling. No compromise on the finish. Just a space that adapts with you; open when you want it, enclosed when you don't.

▶ Video guide

Scan the QR code to watch a short video about zips and velcro or visit go.kuvr.co/zips-velcro

Revision 04 Aug 26